DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is more than 150 words long. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 8, 14, 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mischke et al. Mischke et al discloses using a programmed microprocessor to retard fuel injection timing when transient operation is detected. Timing is then returned (advanced) to normal over a predetermined time period when the transient is over.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-7, 11-13 and 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mischke et al. Mischke et al discloses determining transient operation using load changes. It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use speed change or throttle position as load indicators since they art known equivalents in the art.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 4, 9, 10, 15 and 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The injection timing control systems made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
